VOL. LII. CORSCIANA, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MAY 10, 1938. NO. 50.

WEEK-END DEATH TOLL HEAVY

STOPPED IN NORTH INVADERS SEEKING SOUTHERN SUCCESS

SUCHOW, NERVE CENTER OF CENTRAL CHINA, OBJECTIVE OF CAMPAIGNS

SHANGHAI, May 9.—(AP)—Stalled in their desperate and costly efforts to reach Suchow from the north, the Japanese today reported rapid progress for two secondary thrusts from the south toward that nerve center of the Central China battle area.

Japanese dispatches declared that two columns driving northward through Central Anhwei province along the highway from Pengpu had captured Mengcheng, 85 miles southwest of Suchow after a desperate battle.

Another column moving up the Tientsin-Pukow railway was approaching Kueichow, 70 miles south of Suchow, said a Japanese army spokesman. This force had gained 20 miles in 48 hours.

Suchow, junction of the Tientsin-Pukow and the East-West Lungai railway, is the prize for which Japan and China have been contending nearly five months.

But the Japanese could report no progress for their primary offensive in Southern Shantung province, where they met a major reverse at Tachewang April 6 and where a renewed drive has been checked bloodily on almost the same battlefield.

Repulse Savage Attacks

Chinese said they had repulsed savage Japanese attacks between Tachewang and Pihshien to the southwest, although the Japanese used tanks and smokecreens.

Disparaging Chinese capital, reported new Chinese successes for Chinese guerrillas in their way of harassment against Japanese armies in North China.

The latest instance was that of a mobile column said to have crossed the great wall where it intersects the Peiping-Suiyuan railway northwest of Peiping and to be advancing in Chahangping only 20 miles from the ancient capital.

Other Chinese reports said mobile columns had attacked the Japanese near Hankow, temporary Chinese capital, reported where the first shots of the war were fired last July 7.

Japanese planes also raided extensively along the Lungai railway, trying to check the supply of munitions and equipment to Chinese troops blocking the Japanese offensive in Central China.

Bombardment Heavy

The bombardment was particularly heavy between Suchow and Yunho, where the planes concentrated on trains and munitions dumps only a few miles south of the Shantung battlefield. The bombers also ranged southward from Suchow along the Tientsin-Pukow line.

The armies were still deadlocked on the Shantung front, where the invaders were employing tanks, screened by smoke, in an effort to break through the Chinese defenses.

Central Anhwei province Chinese admitted the Japanese were fighting outside the walls of Mengcheng. Capture of this town would be an important gain for the Japanese and stimulate their campaign against Suchow from the south.

Japanese said they defeated a Chinese guerrilla force which had threatened to decimate the Japanese garrison at Mengcheng, supply base 60 miles up the Yangtze from Shanghai.

Reinforcements sent out from Shanghai relieved the garrison, Japanese said, and have averted a supply line serving 10,000 Japanese to the north from being cut.

TWO NEW EFFORTS TO INVAD

MAYOR HAGUE'S CITY WILL BE MADE BY O'CONNELL AND THOMAS

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 9.—(AP)—Two new efforts to hold meetings in Jersey City were planned today as the most highly publicized in a recent series of attempts to defy Mayor Frank Hague's ban on unauthorized public speeches spluttered and died.

One of two congressmen, whose appearance was called off within a 20 minute tube train ride from a crowd estimated by police at 65,000, announced he would be back, with even more congressmen if possible, a week from Saturday.

Representative Jerry J. O'Connell (D-Mont.) expressed disappointment and disgust that his sponsors had cancelled speeches by him and Representative John T. Bernard (F.L.-Minn.) Saturday night, but said it had averted a riot in which Hague's foes would have been "beat up."

An earlier attempt to hold another meeting was announced by Norman Thomas, socialist party chairman, who said he had applied for a permit to speak a week from tomorrow.

Opens Campaign Here

Robert Calvert (above) candidate for attorney general of the State of Texas, opened his campaign here Saturday night, speaking before a large and enthusiastic crowd from many communities in this section of the state. Calvert was reared in the State Home here, is a graduate of the State Home high school and University of Texas. He was speaker of the last House of Texas Representatives.

MOVEMENT TO CALL LEAGUE ASSEMBLY IN SESSION GROWS

WOULD SERIOUSLY DELAY THE FRENCH-BRITISH REAPPROACHMENT WITH ITALY

GENEVA, May 9.—(AP)—The unexpected growth of a movement to call the League of Nations assembly into session ahead of schedule threatened today to wreck the French-British "realistic" policy of opening the way for recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

This would seriously delay an essential part of French-British rapprochement with Italy.

Both British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, in private talks with other delegates in connection with today's opening of the 101st session of the League Council, urged them to speed action to free League members to recognize Italy sovereignty over Haile Selassie's old domain.

Two of Selassie's representatives sat in the first secret session of the council when France and Britain opened their plea for freedom to recognize Ethiopia as Italian territory.

The meeting was called to arrange the order of business before the council. Since the question of Italy's conquest was right to be represented was not contested.

Halifax and Bonnet wanted public discussion of their "do-as-you-can" proposal to start tomorrow if possible.

A campaign to call the full League membership into session was reported being actively pushed for different reasons by Colombia, Chile and Mexico, encouraged by Soviet Russia, China, New Zealand and Bolivia, members of the 14-member council.

Halifax and Bonnet's spokesmen indicated the British and French statesmen feared delay if the assembly, already scheduled to meet Sept. 5, were asked to deal with the question.

Government Realignment. LONDON, May 9.—(AP)—A realignment of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's conservative

Both O'Connell and Thomas called for Hague's removal as vice chairman of the democratic national committee, a position he had held since 1924.

Declaring "Hague's violation of constitutional rights is a disgrace to the democratic party," O'Connell said he would ask President Roosevelt to see him personally about it.

Saturday night's last-minute cancellation brought an anti-climax to a controversy which had worked itself in some sections to a fever pitch. A week earlier Thomas was hustled out of town when he tried to speak without a permit.

War veteran and other groups warned O'Connell and Bernard to stay out of Jersey City. Daily they reiterated nothing could prevent their appearance. Veterans and others paraded in the jammed square for three hours while the international labor defense committee conferred with the congressman in New York before calling the meeting off.

CAMPAIGN ATTORNEY GENERAL FORMALLY OPENED BY CALVERT

N. S. CRAWFORD PRESIDED AND SYDNEY MARKS INTRODUCED SPEAKER

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff
Promising to be a lawyer for all the people without any entangling alliances, rapping fly-by-night mutual insurance companies preying on the people and condemning the professional vacant land hunters, Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro Saturday night opened his campaign here for the nomination as attorney general of Texas.

Inclement weather conditions Saturday prevented many delegations from various sections of the state from attending, but despite that condition, many were present from Hill, McLennan, Freestone, Limestone, Ellis and Travis counties. The scheduled address in the downtown section was changed to the district courtroom.

Hillsboro and State Home hands furnished music for the occasion. A number of friends spoke briefly.

Crawford Presided.
N. S. Crawford of Kerens, chairman of the Navarro County Democratic Executive Committee, presided. He pointed out with pride the feelings of Navarro countyans held for the youthful Speaker of the House of Representatives, Texas Legislature.

The first Navarro countyman to hold that office since 1902, and urged Navarro county to give him unanimous support in the approaching primary election.

Calvert was reared in the State Home here, was educated at the University of Texas, and has practiced law at Hillsboro for the past several years.

Stated that local merchant, a long-time friend of Calvert, presented and introduced several visitors. Judge Ballard George of the Tenth Supreme Judicial District, Court House floor, Waco, a Corsicanan, was presented.

Jack Hawkins, editor of the Groesbeck Journal, head of the Limestone county delegation, declared Calvert would be in the lead in his sector and predicting it would be raining votes for Calvert in that county in July.

Wm. A. Brown, a local attorney and partner of Calvert, appointed him.

PRESIDENT TALKS OVER LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM MONDAY

NO IMMEDIATE WORDS AS TO VIEWS OF ROOSEVELT CONCERNING CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt talked over his legislative program with congressional leaders today, receiving a report on the progress of his spending-ending program and the success in forcing the wage-hour bill to the house floor.

There was no immediate word as to the chief executive's views toward the legislative program, but Speaker Bankhead hinted he had abandoned hope that congress could adjourn by June 1.

Asked the prospects of adjournment, he replied: "I've just guessed. You will know when the level falls."

Representative Rayburn of Texas, the house democratic leader, said, however, he thought adjournment would be reached by June 1.

Others at the conference were Vice President Garner and Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the senate majority chieftain.

Rayburn said they told the president the conference report on the 1938 revenue bill probably would be taken up in the senate later in the day and, if approved, could be passed.

The new Relief-Public Works Program, the subject of separate conference at the white house in the forenoon by the president, Secretary of the Interior, Hopkins, Budget Director Bell, and house appropriations committee leaders, will be brought up in the house tomorrow.

No Opposition Expressed.
The Texas, who also attended this second conference, said the president was told of the relief bill, which would be directed to the federal agencies that will use them. The president expressed no opposition, he said.

If the house passes the bill, as administration leaders contend it will, a joint committee must reconcile the provisions with those in a different senate measure passed last summer. That might require two or three weeks.

The senate proposed to let a board fix a maximum work week of 40 hours or more and a minimum

JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER SUGGESTS NONAGGRESSION PACT

HIRATO DECLARES FEAR OF UNITED STATES WORRIES MANY JAPANESE

By REILMAN MORIN.
TOKYO, May 9.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, interviewed today by the Associated Press, said that fear of the United States worried "not a few" Japanese and posed the question of a non-aggression pact.

"Nonaggression is a desirable condition to exist between nations," he said in comment on rumors that Japan was preparing to discuss such a treaty with the Washington government.

Discussing anti-Japanese sentiment in the United States and mutual fears of the two nations, he said at one point in the interview that "the question is whether the United States government have the intention to conclude a nonaggression pact with Japan."

He went no further on the subject of a treaty but praised the Washington government for its "well balanced policy" with respect to the war in China and said he expected an early disappearance of anti-Japanism among what he termed a "small section of the American population."

In a full press conference later the soft-spoken, smiling statesman commented on a speech in Washington last week in which Secretary of War Woodring declared aggression by authoritarian nations threatened to provoke widespread war.

But that speech, the Suave Hirota said, was "merely an expression of personal opinion."

In his talk with this writer, the foreign minister disavowed any Japanese intention of interfering in the Philippines the United States' Far Eastern outpost.

"Japan considers herself in no way a threat to the Philippines," he said.

HOLLINGSWORTH IS VICTIM INJURIES BY HIT-RUN DRIVER

BLOOMING GROVE YOUTH TENTH TRAFFIC VICTIM OF NAVARRO COUNTY OF YEAR

Charles Lee Hollingsworth, aged 21 years, died at the P. and S. hospital here at an early hour Friday morning. His death is the tenth highway fatality since the first of the year.

Hollingsworth was struck by a hit-and-run motorist near Blooming Grove at an early hour Friday morning. Sheriff Rufus Evehouse and other county officers have been unsuccessful in learning the identity of the driver.

The injured man received two fractures to each leg as well as other injuries.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth, who reside at Blooming Grove, and other relatives.

Hollingsworth is reported to have hitch-hiked his way from Houston to Corsicana after an unsuccessful quest of work and was last seen by his home at the time of the accident.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Central Baptist church at 4 o'clock. The rites were conducted by Rev. H. R. McDaniel, pastor of the Methodist church.

ROOSEVELT SUPPORTERS WANT HIM TAKE STUMP AGAINST HIS CONGRESSIONAL OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—Some of President Roosevelt's supporters in congress proposed today that he stump the country this summer in an attempt to defeat legislative opponents who have opposed his policies.

They cited the renomination last Tuesday of Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) as evidence that the power of the White House is still great at the ballot box despite any insurgency in congress.

Early in the Florida democratic primary James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary, said Pepper would be returned to the senate. It was one of three direct "blessings" the White House has given senatorial candidates. The others were bestowed by the president on Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Senator F. Ryan Duffy of Wisconsin.

Administration supporters have contended Pepper's victory demonstrated that Mr. Roosevelt should strike a bold course by carrying his policies directly to the country in the primaries as well as in the general election in the fall.

SENATE GAVE ITS FINAL APPROVAL TO TAX REVISION BILL

FIVE-BILLION DOLLAR MEASURE CLAIMED GOOD FOR BUSINESS REVIVAL

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—The senate gave its final approval today to the compromise tax revision bill.

The five-billion-dollar measure, which sponsors contend will encourage business expansion and melt frozen capital, now goes to the house. When that body adopts the agreement reached in conference between the two chambers, the bulky bill will be ready for President Roosevelt's signature.

Senate approval was given after only a few minutes of debate. There was a voice vote. No negative votes were heard.

Drafted by a conference committee to reconcile differences between the senate and house measures, the bill would retain for two years a modified version of the undistributed profits tax.

This taxation principle, originally rejected by the senate, was written into the bill after President Roosevelt had endorsed it in a letter to the conference committee.

The compromise measure also would overhaul the existing capital gains tax structure, substituting a system of flat rates for the present graduated scale.

Congressional approval is expected, and senate leaders said the revenue bill may go to the White House this week.

Senator Borah (R-Ida.) previously had said he would oppose the compromise bill, because it omits legislation to make federal securities taxable.

Borah pointed out that amendments to eliminate tax exempt securities had been passed by the committee. The first case occurred three years ago; the second applies to the pending bill.

"The president has said he wants these tax exempt securities eliminated," said Borah, who had succeeded in having the senate insert such a provision. "We had a chance to do something immediate, but the conferees have killed that chance."

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee, replied that the conferees had eliminated the Borah amendment on

Ford Company Is Newest Winner In Labor Board Row

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals postponed decision today on the National Labor Relations Board's plea for dismissal of an order that prevented reopening of the board's case against the Republic Steel Corporation.

At a hearing in which counsel for the corporation accused the board of trying to "doctor up" the record of its case, Judge Joseph Buffington announced the court would make no decision at this time.

"This is a most important matter," the judge said, "involving clauses of the Wagner act. The court will make further study and try to dispose of this as soon as possible."

COVINGTON, Ky., May 9.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company won in U. S. Circuit Court today an amended order forbidding the National Labor Relations Board from withdrawing records of its case against the company.

The effect of the decision, said Chief Ford Counsel Frederick H. Wood of New York, would be to prevent the labor board from vacating its order of last Dec. 22, and would permit hearing of the case before the court.

Wood asserted in oral arguments preceding the court's decision that it was "perfectly obvious" that the board, if permitted to withdraw its records, would be able to "doctor up" its case.

ADMINISTRATION NOT EXPECTED LIFT ITS ARMS EMBARGO

PRESIDENT'S FIRST POST-VACATION CONFERENCE LEADS THIS CONCLUSION

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's first post-vacation conference with congressional leaders produced a strong indication today the administration would not support efforts to lift the embargo on arms shipments to Spain.

Representative Rayburn of Texas, a house democratic leader, said after the conference that he was firmly opposed to modification at this time of the neutrality act as applied to the Spanish Civil War.

The Texas said in response to questions that the Nye resolution, which would lift the arms embargo was mentioned "incidentally."

He said he would not attempt to speak for the president on this subject, but as far as himself he was opposed to changing the present policy.

The president arranged to discuss this question and international developments in general with Secretary Hull.

The senate foreign relations committee is awaiting an expression from the state department on a resolution for ending the ban on munitions shipments.

Senator Nye (R-N.Y.), author of the proposal, said he expected the department would neither approve nor disapprove. He predicted, nevertheless, that the senate committee would endorse his resolution.

Some committee members expressed doubt that any action would be taken during this session of congress.

The year-old neutrality act provides that export of arms to belligerents must stop as soon as the president finds a state of war exists. It has been applied, so far, only to the war in Spain.

COUNCIL OF MEDICAL SPECIALISTS DECIDE OPERATE ON BABY

PARENTS CHICAGO BABY RELIEVED PARENTS GRAVE RESPONSIBILITY

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Selden decreed "operate," so the left eye of baby Helaine Colan was removed today on the recommendation of an unusual medical council which shouldered her parents' task of deciding whether she should live, at least partly blind, or die eventually of a cancerous growth.

A 15 minute operation in the Garfield Park Hospital climaxed the tedious and ponderous deliberations on the infant's fate.

The decision was announced by Attorney Samuel Hoffman, spokesman for the family, after the medical experts met in secret conference with the infant's father, Dr. Herman Colan, 30, a dentist.

Attorney Hoffman said the council recommended the operation be performed on the left eye to arrest the gloma threatening Helaine's life.

The eye, brain and X-ray specialists had gathered to relieve the parents of the responsibility of deciding the wisest course for their child.

Two rabbits were present in advisory capacities, at the insistence of the mother. The maternal grandfather, Dr. Morris L. Herschman, appeared to supply the medical history of the case.

Attorney Hoffman said the vote for the operation was unanimous. Even the father, who unconsciously raised his hand when the motion was put by Dr. Irving Cutter, dean of Northwestern University's medical school and committee chairman.

Details completed.
Quickly then the details were completed, Hoffman said, Dr. Robert H. Good of Garfield Park Hospital, already familiar with the case, was named to operate, in the presence of all other members of the council.

The left eye and optic nerves were to be removed and entrusted to Dr. Edward W. L. Brown for study. A committee of eight specialists in X-ray therapy was named to examine Helaine after the operation and determine a

CHURCH LEADERS FROM MANY COUNTRIES GATHER TO PLAN GREATER INFLUENCE RELIGION

By J. C. STARK.
UTRECHT, Netherlands, May 9.—(AP)—Church leaders from many countries and many faiths gathered today under the leadership of England's Archbishop of York to form the nucleus of a world church structure for greater religious co-operation and influence.

They came to write a constitution and to work out other details for a world council of churches, uniting as many protestant groups as possible.

The United States has one of the largest delegations. It includes four members of the archbishop of York's committee of 14 which arranged the conference.

In all there are more than 50 delegates representing 32 denominations and 20 countries.

Not represented is the German evangelical church.

A public service at Utrecht Presbyterian Cathedral Monday night, with devotional addresses in five languages, will inaugurate the conference.

For three days the delegates will sit in executive session, seeking to reconcile views on a form of organization. No public announcement is expected until the end of the conference Thursday night of Friday.

The conference is the outgrowth of the Edinburgh world faith and order and the Oxford world life and work conferences last summer.

Results of the conference will be embodied in a report by the archbishop's committee. The report will outline the form of a world council to be submitted to the churches for their adherence.

One or two years or longer may be required to establish the council, which would meet possibly every five years. It would maintain a continuing organization to keep the many church units of the world in more effective relationship.

One of the American delegates, Dr. John R. Mott, chairman of the international missionary council and also a member of the York committee, will participate in tonight's opening service.

Other American delegates are: Dr. Alva C. Bond, representing Southern and Seventh Day Baptists; Professor Kenneth S. LaGrange, representing Disciples of Christ and Congregationalists.

Mr. and Mrs. James V. De Loach, 28, and 24, respectively, their son, Billy, 5, and Mrs. M. R. De Loach, mother of James, all of Dallas, were killed in the collision near Grand Prairie of their automobile and the Sunshine Special, crack Texas and Pacific passenger train.

Charles Lee Hollingsworth, 21, died at Corsicana from injuries received when he was struck by a hit-and-run motorist, Scottie Kent, 18-months-old, was crushed to death at Pittsburgh by an automobile backing from a driveway; Arnold Funk, 34, of Kansas City, Mo., was injured fatally at Fort Worth under the wheels of a truck.

Mrs. W. R. Cammock, wife of a Motley county judge, was killed in an automobile accident five miles north of Guthrie. Florence Miller, 25, died when her automobile slid into a concrete bridge on Highway 12 near Houston; Cooper Nail, 40, was run over and killed by a car at Houston. He was struck when he fell into the street from another machine.

De Loach was a filling station operator. With his family he was

TWO RELIEF CASE WORKERS RETAINED BY NAVARRO COUNTY

COMMISSIONERS PASSED OR- DER FOR MAY AND JUNE; OTHER MATTERS

The Navarro county commissioners' court Monday morning passed an order to retain the two relief case workers for May and June after considerable discussion was held with representatives from Kereus, Frost and Blooming Grove. Those speaking in behalf of the retention were Mayor O. McCormick, Fred J. James, J. Taylor, Kereus, C. L. Tillman of Blooming Grove, Rev. Joe Everheart and Joe Sheppard of Kereus.

It was pointed out that the sewing room in Corsicana, Blooming Grove, Kereus and Dawson employed 60 persons, while the Garfield fund, CCC camps, United Charities and other agencies were helping the unemployed. If the case workers are not retained, the commodities, etc., will be unobtainable in this county. It is expected the budget will be amended and the necessary money borrowed.

Mr. Winn of the federal employment service, again appeared before the court seeking $50 per month toward that office. Action was deferred on that request until 2 p. m.

Officials of the county agent's department were asked concerning the reason Navarro counties have not been receiving their government crop checks while adjacent counties have already received the checks. It was brought out that certain records had been required to be corrected and that had caused a delay. Records of several years back had to be reworked, it was stated, before the checks are available. There have been delays in the field work in some sections of the county, it was stated.

The court authorized the hiring of an additional guard at the county farm for 50 days when needed at a salary of $25 per month. The farm superintendent will procure the guard.

County Judge Paul H. Miller was authorized to purchase jail pads if needed after investigation.

Continued Lobbying Probe. WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—Chairman Minton, May 9.—(AP)—The senate committee on the senate lobby committee said today the securities commission had asked information on the testimony of Maurice V. Reynolds, Chicago, concerning the issuance of stock certificates and debentures for "rural progress" magazine.

In testimony before the committee last week, Reynolds, the publisher, read a list of four percent debentures of the company in return for loans. He also testified stock was issued to investors.

Minton said the S. E. C. officials indicated they wished to investigate whether the issuance of the debentures and stock certificates complied with S. E. C. regulations.

The lobby committee, Minton said, will continue its investigation of the magazine, edited by Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the republican policy committee. Minton charged at hearings that the magazine was financed by "capitalists" to carry "subtle propaganda" against administration policies.

The committee refused to permit Frank to testify and he charged the hearing was a part of a campaign to terrorize and intimidate the press.

May Expedite Wage-Hour Bill. WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—Chairman O'Connor, (D-Ill.), said today that the house expedite action on the controverted wage-hour bill.

The house has signed up a petition to force action on the legislation, but under existing rules it cannot come up before May 23.

O'Connor introduced a resolution to waive the rules and permit the petition to be called up at any time.

He said if the house leadership desired to advance the date of consideration he would make every effort to prevail upon a majority of the committee on rules to report out the resolution, waiving the rules.

Rules committee opponents of the wage-hour bill showed no immediate disposition to go along with O'Connor's proposal. Representative Cox (D-Ga.) said he doubted the committee would approve it.

Representative Dies (D-Tex.) merely asserted: "I have nothing to say about it at this time."

Senator Harrison (D-Miss.), a leader of the senate's southern bloc, said he would oppose the wage-hour bill if the measure is approved in the house.

Harrison would not predict a senate filibuster, but said emphatically that "there will be opposition."

Some southern senators said administration insistence on the wage-hour legislation might bring a long delay in adjournment—possibly until August 1.

Labor Conditions for Seamen. WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee approved today two international conventions designed to fix minimum working standards for seamen.

THOUSANDS LOVE-LORN YOUNG JAP IMMIGRANT-FARMERS AWAIT THEIR BRIDES IN MANCHOUKUO

NEW YORK, May 9.—(AP)—Several thousand love-lorn young Japanese immigrant-farmers are sighing under the spring moon of Manchoukuo, waiting for their brides to arrive from Japan.

Counting the lagging hours until the arrival of 2,400 girls who are being sent out from the homeland to become colonial brides.

These lorn women and their prospective husbands are among the "covered wagon" pioneers of one of the world's greatest colonization schemes.

They are the vanguard of 8,000,000 Nipponese who will be sent out to consolidate for Mikado and country this rich conquest, for which Japan stands condemned by many nations.

It is a far reach from the cherry blossoms of doll-garden Japan to the endless fields of waving grain in Manchoukuo—a hard adventure in a land of mystery. But the lorn young will go forward to the youths they never have seen,

to build homes and work in the fields and bear babies for the glory of Nippon, trusting blindly in the old Japanese proverb:

"Love makes every girl beautiful."

The colonization scheme is, as has been said, the mopping up of a conquest. Japan's virtual annexation of Manchoukuo by force has let loose an avalanche of controversy which will outlast this generation.

There are two sides to most questions, and if you ask a Japanese why his country invaded Manchoukuo, he most likely will point out:

The total area of Japan proper is only about 148,000 square miles—almost exactly the size of New England in New York state. Into this comparatively small territory are jammed 70,000,000 people.

The population per square mile is 469—more than 11 times as many people to the square mile as we have.

These lorn women and their prospective husbands are among the "covered wagon" pioneers of one of the world's greatest colonization schemes.

They are the vanguard of 8,000,000 Nipponese who will be sent out to consolidate for Mikado and country this rich conquest, for which Japan stands condemned by many nations.

It is a far reach from the cherry blossoms of doll-garden Japan to the endless fields of waving grain in Manchoukuo—a hard adventure in a land of mystery. But the lorn young will go forward to the youths they never have seen,

to build homes and work in the fields and bear babies for the glory of Nippon, trusting blindly in the old Japanese proverb:

"Love makes every girl beautiful."

The colonization scheme is, as has been said, the mopping up of a conquest. Japan's virtual annexation of Manchoukuo by force has let loose an avalanche of controversy which will outlast this generation.

There are two sides to most questions, and if you ask a Japanese why his country invaded Manchoukuo, he most likely will point out:

The total area of Japan proper is only about 148,000 square miles—almost exactly the size of New England in New York state. Into this comparatively small territory are jammed 70,000,000 people.

The population per square mile is 469—more than 11 times as many people to the square mile as we have.

Election Results Unacceptable.

SEATTLE, May 9.—(AP)—Results of the AFL-CIO election to "settle" the Alaska salmon cannery labor controversy were declared unacceptable today by the AFL leaders.

The national labor relations board announced that the CIO-affiliated cannery workers and farm laborers union had won the election, 1960 to 1967.

AFL counsel, L. Presley Gill, said the AFL cannery workers union would not be bound by the election. He charged closing of the polls by the NLRB had prevented "three or four hundred" AFL men from voting Saturday.

MASON TOWN, Pa., May 9.—(AP)—The identity of a youth buried in a little cemetery near the southwestern Pennsylvania mining community became a mystery today with the return of 15-year-old Donald Fiore from a two-year hitch-hiking trip.

For first to visit Father Francis Kolb, a priest who had been buried there a year ago the body of a lad they believed was their son, missing since February, 1936. The body was that of a boy shot accidentally while playing with a gun.

On a little steel marker above the grave, tended carefully and covered with flowers by a grieving mother, was a card inscribed "Donald Fiore, Died April 26, 1937."

Donald, a tall, handsome lad with a friendly smile, came home Saturday for Mother's Day.

He said he had planned as a surprise for his mother for months.

Completing the last 17 miles of the journey home safely, he sped first to visit Father Francis Kolb. As he walked into Father Kolb's home, the priest looked up from his desk, incredulous.

"Why, I buried you a year ago, didn't I?" he exclaimed.

Then Donald heard for the first time of his "death." Donald told the priest he had hitch-hiked to the West Coast, drifted south, picked oranges in Florida and last worked on a farm in South Carolina.

Donald's stepfather, Raymond Fiore, operates a tailoring shop with ten floors in the city. He said he had walked into the store, the father hurried to the front, expecting a customer. He stared, unbelievably, at the husky youth.

"Hello, pop," Donald smiled. The father called Mrs. Fiore. "Hello, mom," Donald greeted her.

She moaned and fainted.

PUBLIC SALARY TAXES

At last comes a public issue that people can agree about. There seems to be more unanimity regarding the proposal to end federal income tax exemptions than anything else that has happened in Washington for some time.

There is no reason, in the nature of things, why people whose salaries are paid out of public funds should not be taxed as private citizens are on their private incomes. The exemption of federal employees from state income taxes and of state and local employees from the federal income tax seems to have been based partly on a legal technicality, but mostly on the fact that public servants wanted such exemption and had the influence to get it. Pressure has become so strong now for treating all alike, in taxation policy, that Congress can hardly continue opposing such a fair principle.

Exemption has been carried to such lengths that from any fair viewpoint the situation is rather scandalous. The vast number of employees having such special privilege are not to be blamed for taking advantage of a prevalent and lawful practice, but should not oppose whatever legislation or constitutional changes are necessary to accomplish a sweeping reform.

JAPAN TO LOSE?

It is hard to believe that the Chinese of this generation can really defeat Japan, brave as they are and intelligent as their recent strategy has been. Yet the Japanese may defeat themselves. It may come from political and social crumbling behind the lines.

Edward C. Carter, secretary-general of the Institute of Pacific Relations, an expert on this subject, thinks Japan will be merely a second-rate power when this war ends. Japan will win the battles but lose the war.

"Japan already has the tinder for revolution," he declares, "with the peasants impoverished and the standards of living very low. The revolutionary leaders now are either in jail or dead, but others still rise."

When Japan started her conquest of China she was the one great power of the Far East. Russia had no army in Asia. China was divided and weak. Britain, France and the Netherlands were not strongly fortifying their Asiatic possessions. There was no Philippine army and we were getting out. All that Japan had to do to be "the most successful country in the world" was to continue peaceful penetration of Asia. Instead, she attacked China, aroused the last of that nation, antagonized America and all the other interested powers. Now she finds the pressure growing steadily stronger against her, and conquest ever more difficult.

THE FREEST PRESS

There is still some anxiety here and there in this country about freedom of the press. It is well to be always on guard against encroachment on this freedom from any source; but many experienced newspaper men think there has been, so far, an unnecessary amount of worry. The press is probably freer in America today than it has ever been before anywhere.

Such limitations as there is on this essential right comes mostly without intention, from the high cost

ANSWERING THE CYNIC

I sit with cynics now and then
And nod my head to hear them
That sorrow is the lot of men
And rain spoils many a picnic day!
That's true, I think, till I recall
That rain doesn't really spoil them
Man journeys surely to his grave.
Death is the common end of all.
Upon the timid and the brave
Alike the aullon clouds must fall.
Quite true, but still they can't deny
Many take seventy years to die.

There is no sense in anything.
Youth prances on the lighted stage
And scarce has learned to dance or sing
Before it's heavy grown with age.
Quite true. We must grow old and fat.
But some find pleasure doing that.

All things are either good or bad.
According to the point of view:
Pleasure makes many a cynic sad
Because so fast he'll run it through.
As for myself, until it's done
I'd rather laugh and call it fun.

PWA PROJECTS

Secretary Harold L. Ickes, most reluctant of public money lenders, says he is ready to go ahead now pumping government money into PWA projects. In the last emergency it was long before he swung into action, because of his habitual caution and the red tape involved. Now he has more than 2,700 approved projects which could be started in two or three months, involving a total outlay of $400,000,000.

There should be general interest in this program. The Public Works, in contrast with the Works Progress activities, are supposed to be more or less permanent improvements, of many different kinds, which will be useful and will add to the country's equipment and wealth, though probably not repaying their full cost.

They represent roads, bridges, buildings and a hundred other undertakings providing work, using manufactured materials and adding to our national "plant." On the other hand the WPA is concerned chiefly with direct employment of labor as a relief measure, on projects of less permanent character. The public should take more interest in them, too, and approve or criticize according to their merits.

INTELLIGENT PLEDGE

It is clear that high school and college students are really thinking about the problem of war and peace. The majority of them appear to be as ardently opposed to war as they were a year or two ago when large numbers took the Oxford oath, pledging themselves never to bear arms for their country in any war. But they are taking a different oath this year. In recent peace day demonstrations, thousands of students made the following pledge:

"Because we want to keep America out of war, we pledge ourselves to make our government a force for peace; because Fascism would destroy our generation, we rededicate ourselves to the struggle for democracy."

They still want peace, but they realize now that it can't be had merely for the wishing.

of operating newspapers and magazines nowadays. In large cities the investment runs into millions. This fact limits competition and so tends to limit free and full publicity. Yet even papers with an apparent monopoly in any region cover the news pretty thoroughly; and if they failed, others papers would come in by mail, giving the main facts about what is going on.

In all newspapers, too, the news columns are more complete and impartial than they used to be.

This is only part of the story, though the largest part. Freedom of the press is a far broader principle than most people realize. In any city, large or small, any citizen who has anything on his chest can get it before the public.

If securities keep on going down, the stock exchange will soon pay buyers for taking 'em away.

The anti-noise campaign appears to be succeeding, except on the air.

TEST PILOT,—WHO?MARRIAGE LAW UNIFORMITY

The National League of Women Voters has added to its program for the next two years support for uniform marriage and divorce laws throughout the United States. In the past, state branches of the League have worked for such laws locally, but this is the first time it has been made a goal of the national organization. It may be truly said that the wide variation among marriage and divorce laws in the 48 states is not the cause of the increase in marriage failures noted in America today. Yet chaotic laws surely contribute their share to hasty marriage and hasty divorce and to the evils which arise from them.

Uniformity will be difficult to achieve. It will require agreement on ages and conditions which are now regarded differently not only in the state legislation but in the opinions of religious groups and individuals. Yet uniformity is worth seeking, and its attainment looks more hopeful with the vigorous League of Women Voters on the job.

BIG ROBBERY

From public, territorial robbery Hitler now turns to private robbery. Beginning in Austria, and now extending to the Fatherland, the government requires the 750,000 Jews of Greater Germany to register their fortunes and properties. Much of their wealth has already been seized or shipped into the public treasury by one device or another. Now general confiscation begins.

All domestic and foreign holdings of the Jews must be registered when they exceed $2,000. Whether that is a generous gesture to the poorer Jews is hard to say, but from recent events in Austria it may be doubted whether any Jewish citizens will really be allowed to keep that much money or property.

The total wealth of German Jews was once estimated at $8,000,000,000. It may be reduced now to $2,000,000,000 or $3,000,000,000. The capital levies and other forms of confiscation will take nearly all of that, and the accompanying persecution will doubtless drive out nearly all the Jews who can get away.

The strangest thing about this cruel procedure is that Hitler, Goering and their Nazi subordinates really seem to think the country will benefit by such confiscation. Students of history say it is not on record that any country has prospered by driving out the Jews.

ANOTHER WISCONSIN PARTY

A new political party, like a new country, must have a flag. And flags run to symbols. Thus Philip La Follette's new National Progressives of America, born last week at Madison, Wis., will have "a banner of blue bearing a circle of red, with a blue cross in a field of white."

Here is a striking variation of the Red, White and Blue. It is more colorful and picturesque than our familiar eagles and roosters, or their unofficial elephant and donkey substitutes. The new party seems to go in for mystic symbols instead of totems. Their political significance is not very clear, but perhaps that doesn't matter. Hitler has never explained his swastika.

As for the new party platform, it seems high-powered even for this period of strong politics. Money and credit under public control; public implementation of the right of every American to earn his living; power for the government "to get things done"; security for workers on the farm and in the city; "cutting through the modern underbrush of worn-out debts"; suppressing "those stupid people who deny others access to materials that they themselves do not know how to use"; restoring "to every American the right to help himself"; keeping this hemisphere inviolate "from the Arctic to Cape Horn"—here is a program that seems to call for a militant party with a headman at the head of it.

Well, we shall see what we shall see. Third parties have usually fared badly in this country, yet once in a half a century or so there is a big shift.

HOOVER PRESENTS AN ELEVEN-POINT DEPRESSION ATTACK

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 6.—(P)—Herbert Hoover proceeded to the nation today an eleven-point attack upon depression and called upon the Roosevelt administration to abandon what he termed "a dangerous road for democracy."

The former president was en route to New York by train after delivering one of a series of major addresses here last night at a "grass roots" meeting of Oklahoma republicans, attended by more than 7,500 persons.

In the speech, broadcast nationally, Hoover again assailed new deal policies as "wrecking."

"We have been following that dangerous road for democracy that led to disaster in Europe," he declared.

Declaring that "despite every alibi, this depression is the direct result of governmental actions," Hoover asserted the new deal "proposes to travel further down this dangerous road."

"And," he said firmly, "we are not going down that road without more fighting free speech."

For "a start on a saner and more cheerful road," he outlined as "practical steps."

"1. Restore common morals and intellectual morals in government. In a democracy, or in a Christian country the ends do not justify any means."

"2. Restore common morals and intellectual morals in government. In a democracy, or in a Christian country the ends do not justify any means."

"3. Stop this spending and inflation and pump-priming."

"4. Stop this spending and inflation and pump-priming."

"5. Revise the tax laws as to free the initiative and enterprise of men."

"6. Reduce relief expenditures by one-third through decentralizing its administration. Take it out of the hands of wasters and politicians, and put it back into non-political committees in each community and region to coordinate local communities to find 5 or 10 per cent of the cost. That will provide greater and more sympathetic care for those in distress."

"7. Stop the savings relief and reduction of other expenses and the end of pump-priming, drive to really balance the budget."

"8. Stop credit inflation juggling. Make the currency convertible into bullion at the irreparable 50-cent dollar and repeal all authority for currency inflation."

"9. Set up a court of 25 responsible, non-political representatives of business, labor and agriculture to direct federal reserve policies and thus take that control of credit out of the hands of politicians."

"10. Give the employer and all branches of labor the same rights before the labor board and appoint judicially minded men to the board."

"11. Stop indiscriminate defamations of business and the creations of class hate. Use the courts for purposes of prosecution."

Four Fractures In Legs Result Hit-Run Driver

Charles Lee Hollingsworth, 21 and single, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth of Blooming Grove, suffered four fractures in both his legs today when he was reported to have been struck by a hit and run driver on Highway 22 between Barry and Blooming Grove. He was taken to the F. and S. Hospital in a Blooming Grove ambulance, where the fractures were set.

He received two fractures on the right leg above the knee and one fracture above the ankle and one below the knee in the left leg. Apparently he suffered no other injuries.

Mrs. Hollingsworth, his mother, said he had been to Houston and had gotten a ride as far back as Corsicana, and was hitch-hiking to Blooming Grove when he was struck. County officers today were seeking information about the driver of the automobile, who did not stop to render aid.

Two Negro Boys Electrocututed In Huntsville Chair

HUNTSVILLE, May 6.—(P)—Two East Texas negro boys, Roscoe Young, 18, and Henderson Young, 17, were executed in the electric chair at state prison here today.

"I'm going now where they won't treat me wrong," said the older boy, first to go to the chair. "I'm ready to go if I have to."

Henderson Young made a rambling speech in which he admonished the witnesses "to be ready to meet your Maker like I am because you never know when you have to go."

Each of the boys putted at a cigar as he entered the execution chamber.

The brothers were convicted of offenses against a Longview couple, who were accosted while they were on a motor trip. Roscoe robbed the Longview man of $14 and held a pistol on him while the younger boy attacked the woman.

Buck's Cafe, 210 South Beaton, this week installed what is said to be the first refrigerated air conditioning unit in Corsicana. The installation of the York machinery was made by the Dallas Air Conditioning company.

DUVALL RETAINED TITLE AND BELT IN WIN OVER WILLIS

Clete Duvall, stellar mat artist from Wichita, Kans., retained his junior middleweight belt and the title that goes with it at Talmor Jones' wrestling arena Thursday night before a large crowd of interested fans, when he outmaneuvered Marvin Willis, a most worthy opponent, to win two of the three falls in the main event of the evening.

The match was the most cleanly fought affair seen here in many days, no fouling or attempts at fouling marring the scientific work of either men. Willis won the first fall with a double body spin. Duvall came back to win the second fall with a double Japanese toe hold and took the third fall with his famed python squeeze.

The semi-final match was a rough affair between Red Lindsey and Cowboy Jack Purdin, a new mat villain to show his wares here. Purdin won the first fall but the match finally went to Lindsey as the result of alleged fouling by Purdin. Purdin is a genuine toughster, a big fellow and has been matched with Blacksmith Smith for a match next week that should be interesting as it brings two real mat boys together.

Benny Mathis and Jo Jo the Pinhead went twenty minutes to a draw with Mathis being the continual rough aggressor but Jo Jo being able to take it.

CONSIDER LARGEST AGRICULTURE FUND SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS

OVER BILLION PROVIDED IN MEASURE APPROVED BY SUB-COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—The senate appropriations committee considered today appropriation of $1,080,000,000 for agricultural purposes in the next fiscal year—the largest amount in the 5 years since the agricultural department was established.

A subcommittee approved the appropriation yesterday. Its draft of the bill provides $300,000,000 more than the house approved and calls for $500,000,000 for benefit payments to farmers who comply with the administration's crop control act.

Other items include $25,000,000 for loans to tenant farmers to buy land, $8,000,000 to administer a crop insurance program, $6,550,000 to operate the farm credit administration, and $201,000,000 for federal aid highway.

Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace announced the agricultural adjustment administration had decided to lighten penalties on farmers who overplanted wheat.

For each acre of wheat overplanted, benefit deductions will be made at the rate of 60 cents a bushel on the normal production of the excess acreage, instead of 96 cents.

In surplus feed and grain production areas, deductions for excess acreage for small grains, soybeans, etc., will be $2 per acre instead of $10.

In the deficit feed-producing areas, deductions will be $4 an acre instead of $8.

Wallace said the changes were decided upon because many farmers had planted crops to take individual acreage allotments could be made.

Backers Wage-Hour Bill Demand Action

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—House proponents of wage-hour legislation, including the bill, called on their petition to take the bill from the rules committee, demanding today that the house be allowed to consider the measure without further delay.

They asserted the unprecedented demonstration when 218 members, a majority of the house, signed the petition in little more than a year after it was filed yesterday should be accepted as a mandate for the rules committee to give the bill preferential status.

Under house rules, May 23 is the earliest date the bill could be considered under the petition.

There was considerable doubt, however, even among the bill's supporters, that the rules committee would yield.

"I don't think it will work," Rep. Mead (D-NY), a member of the unofficial steering committee for the bill, said of the aggressive maneuver of the rules committee's stand.

The committee voted 8 to 6 last week to pigeon-hole the bill, resulting in its suspension from the petition method of bringing it to the floor.

Committee Increases Public Works Grants

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Members of a house appropriations subcommittee today announced a decision to increase by $300,000,000 the sum President Roosevelt recommended for public works grants in his lending-spending program.

Today this might allow construction of many federal projects.

The subcommittee voted to permit federal grants up to $750,000 and loans up to $250,000 for local public works projects.

Mr. Roosevelt had recommended $450,000,000 for grants and $550,000,000 for loans.

Secretary Ickes told the subcommittee members said, that many communities would be able to obtain open market loans and would require grants only from PWA.

Consequently, the subcommittee increased the grants figure by $300,000,000.

If all of the $750,000,000 for grants is utilized on the present basis of federal grants, the present cost of the costs of the local projects, committee members said, would result in a $1,687,000,000 works program.

Borah Offers Back Slush Fund Probe

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Idaho) made public today a telegram to Berttram G. Frazier, Philadelphia, in which he offered to sponsor a senatorial investigation if Frazier could produce proof of his charges that a "slush fund" had been raised to support some candidate in the Pennsylvania republican primary.

In a telegram to Borah, Frazier, former state senator, charged that Joseph Pew, oil company executive; former United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy and Moe Annenberg, owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer, were pouring a huge slush fund into the republican primary fight to put over their candidate for governor, Lieutenant Governor and United States senator.

In reply, Borah sent the following wire:

"Replying to your telegram: Before offering a resolution for investigation, I would have some definite proof to justify the resolution. In all probability you are right, but I must have some positive facts."

WOODRIDGE COMMENTS BRING DENUNCIATION BY FASCIST EDITOR

ROME, May 6. (AP)—Virginia Gayda, fascist editorial spokesman, declared today that comments such as those in Washington by Woodriddle on aggression by dictator nations "could not long continue without provoking most fateful and necessary reactions."

In an editorial in Il Giornale D'Italia, Gayda said:

"The secretary of war of the United States will have difficulty in identifying the Ethiopian war 'pressure on a democratic nation'."

"I lack this proof, his statements would seem deliberately hostile and provocative to Italy."

"Woodriddle in substance sanctions with his declarations the activities of bloc politics, the treasury of preventative war against the authoritarian regime and ranks himself among the instigators of that policy of international confusion which could not long continue without provoking most fateful and necessary reactions."

Gayda also referred to Woodriddle's speech in an editorial on today's imposing military review in honor of Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

In that speech, Woodriddle said that the United States Chamber of Commerce "incredible and intimidating statements."

"The armed forces of authoritarian states, which the polemic backer of the bill could describe as an announcement of aggression, have become now the most secure means of peace and right."

"(Woodriddle spoke of the danger of widespread war in 'continued aggression' by authoritarian powers.)"

In the editorial devoted to Woodriddle alone, Gayda, who often repeats the views of the fascist regime wrote:

"We do not see what interests the United States has in assuming this fatal and heavy responsibility for the order of the world and for its own prosperity and internal peace."

"But in the existing state of facts and disclosures it may be asked if, as a sequel to the rearrangement now in progress, the pretext of defensive necessity, it may not be the intention of some north American circles to resume persecution by force or more of less masked conquests in the direction of central and south America."

president and congress in a resolution today to provide emergency funds to prevent curtailment of the Federal Bureau of Investigation activities, and praised the bureau as "the keystone of national law enforcement in criminal fields."

TOKYO, May 7. (AP)—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota called on the Japanese people today to prepare for "possible extreme personal financial sacrifices" to achieve victory in the Chinese war.

He added that "no optimistic view of the future is warranted."

The foreign minister's comments, hinting at delay regarding the Japanese offensive, were made in a lengthy review of Japan's foreign relations. He spoke at the closing session of the conference of provincial governors.

Hirota paid tribute to the consistently neutral attitude of the United States.

"It is a matter for congratulation that friendly relations have been maintained despite the deplorable Panay tragedy," Hirota said.

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—A recent house-serve committee approved today the final draft of the compromise tax bill.

The conferees said they made no changes in the terms of the agreement reached last week, merely improving language of the compromise worked out by the committee.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the Senate Finance Committee said he hoped to bring the revised legislation before the senate Monday or Tuesday.

Over Million Added, WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress Administrator, told the house appropriations committee that employment on WPA projects increased from 1,488,855 last September 25, low point for the current fiscal year, to 2,530,255 on April 10.

His testimony before a subcommittee conducting hearings on the President's request for additional relief appropriations, made public today, included these figures on employment and expenditures on WPA projects by states (employment as of Sept. 25, employment as of April 10, and total expenditures July 1, 1937, to March 31, 1938):

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE MASTER OF GREATEST FEUDAL FAMILY, DIES

STATESMAN AND SPORTSMAN HATER OF AUTOMOBILES DURING LIFE

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT LONDON, May 6. (AP)—The Duke of Devonshire, towering master of England's greatest feudal families, died today at the age of 80 within the historic walls of his principal seat, Chatsworth House, where Mary, Queen of Scots, once was imprisoned.

Statesman-sportsman, he was a former governor-general of Canada and one of the wealthiest land-owners in England.

The origins of his life are lost in English antiquity. One of his ancestors was Sir John Cavendish a chief justice who in 1381 was beheaded at Bury St. Edmunds by insurgent peasants led by Jack Straw at Wat Tyler, who revolted against a poll tax.

Big, stolid, but keen and resolute, the duke—Victor Christian William Cavendish—spent his last years passionately hating automobiles, which he called "the most dangerous of the five great evils, entertaining royalty and riding in hansom cabs."

A few years ago he called motorists "foul, stinking things and a nuisance to the world."

The royal apartments in his Chatsworth house in Derbyshire have housed many kings and queens. But when George V and Queen Mary went there in 1933, the duke and duchess relinquished their own rooms, thinking the state apartments not good enough.

They also greeted their majesties with the salute of a 100-foot plume of water from a fountain.

The duke's land holdings exceeded 800,000 acres. But in 1933 Chatsworth House and other estates were turned over to a corporation to escape tax burdens.

Held Ancient Title, Victor Christian William Cavendish, ninth duke of Devonshire, held title originally conferred in 1694 upon an ancestor for the able part he played in the revolution which, in 1688, placed William of Orange on the British throne.

On May 31, 1868, Victor Cavendish was 10 years old when, in 1908, he entered into his inheritance on the death of an uncle. The title carried with it one of the greatest estates in the British empire, but, in common with many another family of the landed gentry, the duke's value declined until the duke was forced to sell Devonshire house in Piccadilly, London, and finally turn the family possession over to a corporation to ease the burden of taxation.

That corporation, the Chatsworth and Fountains Estate Company, formed in 1926 with a capital of $1,520,000. It took over Carlton Gardens, London; Chatsworth House and Hardwick Hall, in Derbyshire; historic Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire; Compton Place, Eastbourne; and Lismore Castle, Ireland. The landed possessions totaled 186,000 acres and at the height of their prosperity in the '80s the dukedom enjoyed from them an annual income of $900,000. In addition the family held mineral and manufacturing interests in Lancashire and the foresight of the duke's grandfather had constituted the Cavendishes as landlords of virtually the whole of the flourishing seaside resort of Eastbourne. Their fortunes continued at high tide well into the war.

The duke was governor general of Canada from November 11, 1916, to August, 1921. Within that term he had the unique experience of reviewing on successive days armed battalions of French chasseurs who were on a good tour of America and United States, infantry en route overseas. These events occurred June 28 and June 29, 1918, the latter day marking the first time that armed soldiers of the United States had entered the dominion since the war of 1812.

The duke visited Washington in 1918. There he told the National Press Club that President Woodrow Wilson's famous "fourteen points" constituted "the Magna Carta of Peace."

Public Service Goes Back Victoria. Back of his term in Canada was a long record of public service in the best of the tradition. He was treasurer of the royal household in the last years of Queen Victoria's reign and for a time under King Edward. For the seventeen years preceding his accession to the house of commons he was in the house of commons as representative of his home constituency, the western division of Devonshire, being also financial secretary of the treasury 1903-5.

His strong interest in education led to his appointment as chancellor of the University of Leeds and as high steward of Cambridge University. He was lord lieutenant of Derbyshire, high steward of Derby, mayor of Eastbourne in 1909 and at Chatsworth's neighboring borough of Chesterfield in 1911.

In the early stages of the world war he was civil lord of the admiralty. King George made him a Knight of the Garter in 1918 on the eve of his departure to Canada and after his return from the dominion he was secretary for the colonies for the two years 1922-24. When the big empire was in the hands of the duke, he became one of its principal guarantors and active supervisors.

He suffered a stroke of paralysis in 1925 and thereafter curtailed his activities.

His duchess, to whom he was married in 1892, was Queen Mary's mistress of the robes. She was Lady Evelyn Emily Fitzmaurice, daughter of the fifth Marquis of Lansdowne. To them were born the sons and five daughters. The second son, Charles Cavendish, married Adele Astaire, American stage dancer, in 1932.

Chapman of Kerens, and Charles Gillespie Cullum, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cullum, 3133 Maplelane, Dallas, which was consummated at the First Presbyterian church in Garland Friday morning at 10 o'clock, with Dr. John Russell officiating.

MUSSOLINI DISPLAYS MILITARY MIGHT TO HITLER ON FRIDAY

SHOWING "CHEMICAL REGIMENT" SENDS SHUDDER THROUGH SPECTATORS

ROME, May 6. (AP)—The next European war—if it comes—will be largely a struggle with chemicals, flames and artillery if Premier Mussolini's lineup of armed forces today in honor of Reichsfuehrer Hitler was an indication.

Also, it will be the "totalitarian" war of which the late master strategist, General Erich Ludendorff, writes, meaning that women and children would be quite as much drafted into service as men.

Mussolini showed his guest a whole "chemical regiment" that sent a shudder through the mass of spectators. The soldiers looked like being from another planet in their gas masks.

Among their equipment were tanks and tubes and compressed air containers. There was, however, reassurance for Italians in equipment for fighting fire and disease germs.

A further feature of the impressive two-hour parade was the prominence given to artillery, from machine guns and anti-aircraft pieces, to heavy cannon. It was determined to show his German guests he was not lacking in the gruesome implements of war.

Besides Hitler and his entourage of high Nazis, Mussolini's guests included two former kings, Alfonso of Spain and Amanullah of Afghanistan.

How seriously Mussolini is thinking of future war as "totalitarian" may be judged by the fact that his review included not only regular army units—infantry, cavalry, artillery and colonialists—but also small boys, girls in black uniforms, teen-age youngsters on horseback, military units of university students and various fascist formations, including the Colonial fascist police.

Nor did he hesitate to incorporate spade-carrying labor camp conscripts.

Alpine Troops, An interesting phase of the display was the jaunty march past of Alpine troops with their hucksacks and skis. Among them one could detect many a teutonic face from South Tyrol.

When the Alpine passed Hitler looked on gravely, pensively, while Mussolini, who usually expanded each formation in his capable German, lapsed into silence.

Both relaxed into smiles soon afterward as the picturesque Bersaglieri trooped by on the run, their hands playing as the musicians trotted along.

The reviewing stand where the fuhrer stood with King Vittorio Emanuele, members of the royal family, and the Italian king, in the Via Del Trionfo, through which Caesar's legions once marched.

Within sight were the triumphal arch of Constantine and the colosseum.

All but a few of the 20,000 troops made snappy use of the "paso romano"—the Italian version of the German goosestep.

The sound of muskets of the Italians testified to the pain repeated in recent weeks to make this demonstration of the difficult step impressive to the present-day custodian of German Prussia's military tradition.

The dictators of two powerful modern European nations appeared in excellent spirits.

Business Men Swamp RFC For Part of Funds

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Business men are swamping the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with applications for part of the $1,000,000,000 now available for business lending.

The agency has lent $20,400,000 in the two and a half months since the president authorized it to resume lending, and $35,000,000 worth of additional applications have been forwarded to Washington.

Small and big business both have borrowed. There was, for instance, a $300 advance to a Maine fisherman and a $125,000 loan to a West Virginia company.

Officials explained the new loan program started off slowly because it takes several weeks for most business men to decide on and plan finance. Of the $20,400,000 of loans authorized to date, more than half were made in April, and the volume of applications is picking up steadily.

SPRING FEVER

If you feel dragged by the sudden changes of temperature, read what Miss Forbes tells you to do about it today.

When you feel all dragged out after a day's jobs with the thermometer suddenly announcing that spring is here, you have met something in your own system needing attention. A few days ago, this condition was anticipated, and the family was dressed a head with blood purifiers, and herbs to tone and also cleanse the system. We do it all differently, E. K. Forbes, now, or forget all about it until we realize we are needing some help in order to keep going comfortably.

A fine cleansing cream, neither of them is difficult to make. Your skin will be very much better after you use these. I can also send you an excellent formula for a soap tonic, that will clear up the trouble. If you wish these, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for mailing. There is some condition in your system that is causing the burning sensations in your feet, and with this tendency to a low blood pressure, you should be under the care of a doctor. When you get the right kind of treatment, much of your skin trouble will be improved. The creams are so inexpensive when you make them at home, you will be able to afford them, and also have the very best thing for your skin.

The shampoo you used was too drying for your scalp. You will do better if you just use a scalp that is in your bathroom. A dissolved soap is better than rubbing a cake of soap over the hair, as it may stick and not even dissolve with the rinses.

K. McC.—Massage your hands, and if the trouble is fatty tissue, you will manage to break it down so it will be absorbed and carried off in the circulation.

If you have any beauty problems you cannot solve, write for Edna Kent Forbes three $2.00 beauty booklets: (1) "The Fine Points of Beauty," (2) "The Fine Points of Beauty," (3) "The Fine Points of Beauty." Send two cents (to stamp) for each booklet, to pay for printing and handling, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope (to be used for mailing). Address Edna Kent Forbes, c/o this paper.

CHINA'S LEGIONS STRIKING BACK AT MECHANIZED JAPS

ENDING OF TENTH MONTH OF WAR IN CHINA FINDS JAPANESE BLOCKED

By The Associated Press.

The war in the Orient ends its tenth month today with China's legions resisting and even striking back at Japan's mechanized power with increasing vigor and hope of ultimate victory.

Four months the previously rapid spread of Japanese conquest over the map of China has been stalled. Now on the main war front in southern Shantung province the Chinese have assumed the offensive. Japan has suffered one major defeat. Another seems possible.

Neutral observers are wondering whether a turning of the tide in the great tides of history Japan's expansion—may not be at hand.

Before they were stalled, Japan's armies had overrun approximately 400,000 square miles of Chinese territory. The invasion had carried war's horrors still further, along the whole extent of China's coast and for 1,000 miles inland.

Hundreds of thousands have been killed; more than one million probably have been wounded or are missing; tens of millions have been made homeless or destitute. Japan's forces disclose their costs and lack of adequate Chinese machinery to tally the losses make accurate counts impossible.

Half Million Japanese, The war has cost probably 500,000 Japanese soldiers to the continent, to be confronted by twice or three times their number. It has lightened the clamp of autocracy put on both peoples.

It has put on the Japanese the burden of their own losses and the blockade on China's coasts and involved Japan in wrangles with the United States and other powers.

Confronted by the prospect of a disastrous failure to achieve complete victory in China, Japan still is afraid to throw her entire strength into the struggle—she has the ever-present fear of the Soviet Russian giant to the north-west.

The war has had three distinct phases since its genesis in an exchange of shots in the dark on the night of July 7, 1937, at Marco Polo bridge, west of Peking.

First was the comparatively easy Japanese overrunning of nearly all north China. Next came the bitter Shanghai-Nanking phase, ending with the fall of Nanking, the Chinese capital, Dec. 13. Finally the subsequent phase of stalemate on the major front and relatively unimportant fighting on the farflung.

Chinese hope a new phase of victory. Military losses heavy.

Their military losses have been tremendous, estimated in Hankow, their new capital, at roughly one million killed and wounded. In January the Japanese army said its casualties had been only 20,000. Neutrals believed this far below the real numbers. Since then Japan has lost more heavily in Shantung.

Material destruction has approached if not passed a billion American dollars.

The war seems to have transformed China from political chaos to something like a unified nation. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has rallied nearly all elements, including even his arch-enemies, the Japanese, to China's fight for existence.

A catalogue of Japan's conquests: Five of China's greatest cities, Shanghai, Peking, Tientsin, Nanking, Hangchow.

Nearly all the five northern provinces—Hopeh, Chahar, Suiyuan, Shansi, Shantung—which were considered her first objectives.

Large portions of Kiangsu, Chekiang, Anhwei and Honan provinces.

Merely An Overrunning. But in many cases conquest has been merely an overrunning, and Japan now holds little more than the big cities and main railways in the "occupied" territory. Even these must constantly be defended against Chinese guerrilla armies.

Both nations are tired of the war, but neither can stop. For China it is a fight for life. For Japan, although it began as an "incident" and developed into a punitive expedition, it has grown to involve her hegemony of the Orient—her role as peace-keeper of East Asia, she calls it—her status of a world power, perhaps even her whole social, economic and political fabric.

It has confronted the Japanese government with perplexity, put the Japanese business man in a strait-jacket, burdened the Japanese masses with taxes and higher living costs and taken sons and husbands from scores of thousands of Japanese homes.

Gains May Not Be Retained. The map pictures Japan's gains, which she may not be able to retain. Between onefifth and one-fourth of the area of China proper (excluding the vast dependencies of Mongolia, Tibet and Turkestan) have been marched over by Japanese armies.

The great part of the "conquered" area is contained within the vast windings of the Yellow River, through Suiyuan, along Shansi's western border, across Honan and Shantung. Except for a small slice of Shantung south of the river, Japan's northern armies have been held back from crossing that mighty barrier.

The secondary "occupied" area is a wedge driven 200 miles inland along the lower Yangtze river, including Shanghai, Nanking and Hangchow.

But the Japanese still are no closer than 250 miles at any point to Hankow, rallying center of China's reinvigorated resistance. There China's government still functions. Her armies, apparently shattered at Nanking, have been reformed and are being re-armed.

Since Nanking the Japanese have tried vainly to join their northern conquests with those in the Yangtze valley. The Chinese still hold the vital corridor of the Lunghai which separates the two areas.

Local Employment Office Reports 77 Placements April

A total of 77 placements were made by the Texas State Employment Service in Corsicana during April, according to the report of Sam G. Wynn, local manager, who went on to say that there were 263 new applications for work made at the Corsicana office last month, the majority of them being in the commercial and professional divisions as spring activity in retail stores as a peak.

The filing of claims for unemployment compensation continues to be one of the major activities of the employment service Wynn says, with continued need for their compensation benefits are used up. A total of 256 initial claims and 2,219 continuing claims were filed in April for benefits under the social security act.

More than 1700 visits were made to local employers during the last month by representatives of the employment service in an effort to ascertain immediate and long-range need for help and to ask employers to refer to the employment office at 113 West Fourth Avenue, those qualified applicants who come to them seeking work.

Lost Control Car. Deputy Sheriff Bradley stated eye-witnesses to the fatal crash advised him that the car driven by Mrs. Bryson was proceeding in a southerly direction and apparently got out of her control as it struck a curve in the pavement. A culvert post was struck by the 1937 V-8 Ford, equipped with overdrive gears, it was stated, and the car careened into the path of Slaton's truck that was proceeding in a northerly direction. Slaton resides in Dallas.

Truck Driver Jumps. The loaded trailer broke loose from the main part of the truck and plunged into a ditch. The driver's cab of the truck an instant after the driver had leaped to the ground. The leap by the driver saved his life, the officers reported. The wrecked car and truck plunged into a ditch and considerable time and difficulty was experienced before the wreckage could be cleared.

A identification of the victim first was established by her husband, who reported that the woman was badly mangled.

DALLAS WOMAN IS FATALLY INJURED AUTOMOBILE CRASH

LOST CONTROL OF CAR ON CURVE NEAR STREETMAN FRIDAY MORNING

Mrs. W. J. Bryson, about 40 years of age, 1004 North Marsalis, Dallas, was killed Friday morning in an automobile accident near the Navarro-Freestone county line north of Streetman. Her death was the ninth automobile fatality in Navarro county since January 1, this year.

The body was brought to the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home where it was prepared for burial. No funeral arrangements have been perfected pending the arrival of her mother and a brother from Palacios.

Raymond Slaton, driver for the Gillett Motor Company, escaped with minor bruises and lacerations when he leaped from his cab as the two vehicles crashed and plunged into a ditch.

Deputy Sheriff Alton Bradley and Allen Calloway, Constable G. Ivey of Richland, and Highway Patrolman Dickson answered the call.

Navarro County Expected to Get Another Oil Test

CONGRESS LEARNED FROM HOPKINS WHAT MAY BE EXPECTED

ORIGINAL BUDGET ESTIMATE WAS ONLY ONE BILLION FOR NEXT FISCAL YEAR

WASHINGTON, May 7. (P)—Congress learned from Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator, today the government's relief program may cost $3,000,000,000 in the next fiscal year instead of $1,000,000,000 as originally estimated by the budget bureau.

Testifying before a house appropriations subcommittee on President Roosevelt's request for $1,250,000,000 to finance work-relief from July 1 to February 1, 1939, Hopkins disclosed he was preparing for a peak load of 3,100,000 relief clients next winter.

Hopkins said the $1,250,000,000 would take care of an average of about 2,600,000 persons until next October and permit an increase up to 3,100,000 during the winter months.

There are approximately 2,600,000 persons on relief rolls now and Hopkins said that with his estimated winter increase there would be an average of 2,800,000 for the seven months period.

He said "the number of families in the United States who are in need of relief is over 6,000,000 including about 20,000,000 people. I know at one time there were 27,000,000 people who were getting aid."

Hopkins said expenditure of federal funds alone would not provide the total increase in private employment which is essential in our economy.

"For my own part, I do not believe that the expenditure of large sums of public money, in and by itself, will do the trick," he said.

"However, we are in a situation where private funds simply are not moving; where employment is at a low level, where people are put on part time, where the national income has dropped in a relatively few months from a rate of $88,000,000,000 to $56,000,000,000."
